Edinburgh is the most beautiful System in the Bretonia Sector and the government is making huge investments to change the System into the primary luxury resort feature of the Bretonia House. For the present, a small part of the System will still be used for industrial purposes, with Perth Station supporting mining operations in nearby asteroid field. But the main focus is on two local planets (Ayr and Gaia) being candidates for terraforming, and Luxury Liner Shetland orbiting Planet Gaia is the first step for developing tourism in the System. However prices for onboard cabins are astronomical, so for now only the rich of Bretonia can afford to spend time there. Those most wealthy have also the possibility to visit the surface of Planet Gaia which is a tropical paradise. With increased tourism there also comes increased local criminality, which is locally supported by an ecoterrorism movement calling themselves the Gaians. No one knows for sure how they achieved it, but in local bars rumours circulate that they have a fully operational base in one of the local asteroid clouds.
