The Omicron Minor System in the past was the hidden home System of The Order. It was also where the researching of the 'Dom'Kavash's Artifact' was successfully completed. This later led to the opening of an unstable 'Hyper Hole' inside Dyson Sphere above the huge Nomad City, which led to the first defeat of Nomad forces in the Sirius Sector. Following these events, which among other things contributed to revealing this System and the existence of The Order's base; The Order decided to relocate its activities elsewhere. The Station on Planet Toledo was repaired after the Nomad attack, but nowadays visitors only find hired personnel who do not provide any information about The Order's activities. Interestingly however, the space around Planet Toledo is continuously patrolled by numerous Rheinland heavy patrols which contain capital ships. The reason for this is not publicly known and official sources remain silent.
