Outer Dyson Sphere contains an outer metallic looking surface of the enormous Dyson Sphere. Here was placed the special entry/exit gate, which has been covered by the force field. The real purpose of this gate is not known, but there are theories that the gate could be a special energy relay for energy distribution, or that it was used specifically during the construction of the Dyson Sphere and later permanently sealed when it was no longer needed. The fact is, the Order has used this gate for invasion into Dyson Sphere. During invasion were found near the gate four active energy generators, whose destruction led to the opening of the entrance into the Sphere.

The Order later tried to start further surveying here, mainly because of existence of another Nomad gate, which is, how we know now, leading into X-3043. That survey however ended in failure. The main reasons were constant Nomad attacks in local areas and failure to activate the gate. Surveying local space found only, that the unknown planet above Dyson Sphere surface is very likely composed of the compressed remains of waste from the construction of the Dyson Sphere.

Nowadays space above Dyson Sphere is still guarded by local, light Nomad forces which are lethally dangerous to all visitors. From the three gates existing here (included the special gate into Dyson Sphere), only one works from X-3043. It seems that the Hyper Hole activation inside the Dyson Sphere led to a permanent shutdown of the two others. This is the most popular theory within the scientific establishment of the Order, however nothing has been confirmed by really hard evidence.
