The Sol System (part of the Sol sector) is the place of origin of mankind. It was also for a very long time, mankind's only home. All this changed in the 23rd Century at the end of the Great War between the Eastern Coalition and the Western Alliance. The exodus from Sol started with the Western Alliance which was losing the war. They had launched five sleeper ships which breached a Eastern Coalition blockade and headed to the Sirius Sector. Not too long after this the last of the "victorious" Eastern Coalition forces also had to leave the Sol after the Nomads invasion.

The Nomads had occupied Sol for many decades but in the end they were defeated by the "Sirius" humans which were able to successfully deal with the Nomad threat in the Sirius Sector. With this victory they decided to return and liberate their original home. After the Nomads were defeated, the rebuilding of Earth began. However, there was still one unanswered question: What happened with the Eastern Coalition? This question was answered by Jack Blinch, when his investigation revealed an area in Sol space where the Eastern Coalition started their way to the Altair Sector where they built a "second" mankind colony.
