Tau 37 is one of the very nice Systems located in the Western Edge Worlds. In the System's centre are vertically positioned two stars where, especially the bigger one a White Dwarf, colours the entire System to a blue colour. The smaller star, a Medium Yellow, lies high above the solar plane yet it is almost directly above the White Dwarf and therefore looks like a sun in a blue sky.

From a regional point of view this System is considered by some as a part of the "Hispania Region". This is because the Outcasts home world Malta is only one jump away in the Omicron Alpha System and connected via a jump hole in the northern blue nebulae filled with asteroid fields. But the Outcasts present only occasional danger as they were unable to establish their own base here. This is because the Zoners and especially the IMG were operating very aggressively, both have built their own stations here. The Zoners base, Freeport 10 is the centre of local trade, and many bounty hunters are often seen in its bars. The Falkands base, built inside an asteroid, serves as a supply and defensive centre for all miners in the region. They use this station frequently due to the local asteroids fields being rich in Niobium.
