

Light Arms

Light Arms include a wide array of portable weapons intended for personal defense, ranging from hand-held blasters to shoulder-mounted needler rifles. While not suited to major military offensives, this line of weaponry is more than adequate for protecting oneself in close quarters combat. And with piracy on the rise throughout the colonies, the need for protection has never been greater.