1. Description

This is the station from where the Farmers Alliance stage their attacks against - mainly - foreign trade ships all over Kusari space by using some nearby jumpholes. Since it is relatively easy to reach from Planet Kyushu, home and living ground of most of the Farmers Alliance members and pilots its living facilities are only rudimental, being merely a hub for their loot, a confidential meeting point for their patrons from Samura Industries and, most important, training ground and base of their fighter wings.
