1. Description

Now owned by the Kusari Police, this station was built by the GMG, as a laboratory to study warp anomalies in the system. After the Nomad war, GMG lost interest in Hiruga and secretly sold the station to the Kusari government (probably hoping for future agreement with Samura). Blood Dragons declared GMG as hostile shortly after this turnover. However, and regardless of many attempts by Blood Dragons' forces to destroy it, Kobe station stays still, acting as a certain refuge for government-friendly people who mistakenly enter Hiruga without a map, and a treatment station for PTSD victims after the experience with Hiruga maze.
